1. It has been reported that the Ecuadorian Minister of Foreign Relations, Dr. Jose Vicente Trujillo, had instructions from the Velasco regime to negotiate a commercial treaty with Argentina on his way to and return from the Rio Conference. No details on the provisions of this proposed treaty are presently available. Trujillo was also reported to have had powers to sign such a treaty, if made, on his return through Buenos Aires.
2. The Ecuadorian Ambassador in Buenos Aires has been instructed to discuss the proposed treaty there with Senator Molinari, the principal advocate of this treaty in Argentina.
